

Town helps businesses help community in lockdown

AS we continue to manage our way through the coronavirus crisis, Wellington Town Council is again sponsoring this page this week.

Wellington's Mayor, Cllr Janet

Lloyd, said: "Even though some selected businesses such as garden centres have been allowed by the Government to re-open this week, many still have to remain closed.

"This is why the town council is very pleased to support the businesses advertising on this page so that members of our community can access goods and services while still in lockdown.

"Again I wish to thank everyone for all their efforts to manage our lives so well in these very uncertain times."

This page of advertisements represents the sixth week of a joint initiative between Wellington Town Council and the Wellington Weekly News to help local businesses and charities affected by the coronavirus situation keep in touch with the local community.
