Social justice requires that we provide an education which gives the less privileged access to the knowledge they need to succeed.

“Whilst we cannot present curriculum as a panacea to resolve all social ills, it is the finest instrument we have to ensure that children in our care receive a rich, coherent and ambitious education that takes them beyond their own experiences so they can confidently meet the demands of whatever comes next. Our role is to ensure that when they reach adulthood and join society, they feel like a participant and not a spectator.”
